Spiritual Thought

As we enter the final week of October, the month dedicated to the Holy Rosary we can think about this beautiful and powerful prayer.

The rosary itself, the string of beads, is an emblem of Catholicism. If we see it in a car we know a Catholic is driving, if we see it in a film we know the character is Catholic – it's an identifier.

Other religions have strings of prayer beads, but the rosary is singular, with its crucifix and portions of beads, it is unmistakable.

The prayers of the rosary are the simplest prayers that every Catholic knows. The Our Father, taught us by the Lord himself. The Hail Mary, taught us by the Gospels and the tradition of the church. The Glory Be, praising God for ever.

These prayers have Jesus at the center – literally the center of the Hail Mary is the holy name of Jesus. While many see the rosary as a Marian prayer (centered around Mary) it is really a prayer through Mary to Jesus.

As we pray the rosary we are immersed in the life of Jesus and Mary. The sets of mysteries highlight for us the events from the life of Our Lord, and for those few minutes we are transported to Galilee and Jerusalem. We see with the eyes of faith the event that have saved us. The mysteries take us through all the human emotions, joy, sorrow and exultant happiness. How could it be otherwise, as we reflect on the humanity of Jesus, of course we will encounter all the human emotions. Many people sadly turn away from the rosary, "it's repetitive," "it's boring," "it's old fashioned." It may well be all of those, it is repetitive, we say the same prayers again and again. But is that bad? Much of our life is repetition and so is our prayer.

The rosary also maybe old fashioned (is that a problem for a Catholic?) By praying the rosary we are joining the long chain of Catholics before us, who have grabbed their beads at difficult times, maintained the faith and gone to heaven. So let's find our beads and join them.

Holy Day of Obligation

When the Bishops restored the Holy Days of Obligation to their correct days, said that Holy Days of Obligation falling on Saturday or Monday should be transferred to the Sunday.

So, we have the strange phenomena next weekend of celebrating All Saints on Sunday the 2nd November, the day normally assigned to the Holy Souls (which will be celebrated on 3rd Nov).

Our Final October Devotions

As October is the month dedicated to the Holy Rosary, you are warmly invited to October devotions, hymns, the rosary and litany in honour of Our lady. This will take place in the church at 3pm every Sunday in October.

Call out for Altar Servers

If you are a young person in our parish and have received your First Holy Communion, why not volunteer to join our wonderful altar serving team. You're welcome to arrive 15 minutes before any of the weekend Masses, to get vested and learn as we go.
